

FLOR DO MAR: GOA'S NEW FLOATING BAR

A two-minute boat ride away from the shore of Morjim, you can find a sublime lounge with a minimalist, Mediterranean vibe bobbing about in the water. You can get a boat from the reception near Morjim church (reserve in advance to have it waiting for you) or bring your own boat and dock there.

The 90 cover space has a covered bar area and two open decks for alfresco dining and lazing on lounge chairs. Launched by Anju and Gautam Dutta (the guys who brought Ferretti's Riva yachts to India), this is a splendid spot for a sundowner especially on Fridays and Sundays, when a live band plays as you drink under the stars.

From simple steamed shrimp wrapped in banana leaves to fish in fresh mango sauce, and the recommended Butter garlic prawns in white wine sauce served with freshly baked Poi, the floating getaway serves up hours-old seafood (everything is bought or caught the morning of the meal) that smacks of all the hot, straight-out-of-the-wok taste that goes down so well with a cold beer.

If requested Flor Do Mar can hold private functions of up to 150 people.

Morjim Beach Road (near Morjim Church), Bagwada, Morjim, Goa 403512
